

Summer Select Frequently Asked Questions:

What is Summer Select?

Summer Select is a program designed to further develop players during the summer months between the Fall and Spring soccer seasons. This program is supplement to a player's primary club team. Summer Select Teams will train once a week for a 6-week period from July to the end of August. The program also includes a 4-day team camp. Teams will participate in 3-4 tournaments throughout the summer.

How does the trial process work?

Players who are trying out will be evaluated. You will receive an email regarding your child's acceptance into the program shortly after the tryout. This email will state whether your child has been accepted into the Select program.

How many players make a team?

The Long Island Rough Riders look at players who we feel have the skill level and potential to develop into top quality soccer players. The number of players on the roster varies for each age group. Teams are usually comprised of 10-20 players. Decisions regarding roster size will be discussed at tryouts and also presented at the time of acceptance.

What costs are associated with the program?

Approximate costs are broken down as follows:

- Training, Facility, Program Fees, and Team Camp fee - $495
- Uniform Cost - Approx. $45
- Tournament Costs are divided amongst the players attending the tournament.

When and where are practices?

Practice will take place at Bethpage State Park in Farmingdale. Practices are held on weekday evenings between 6:00 - 8:30 PM. Once teams are set, the training days and times will be confirmed and announced for the summer. While specific training requests cannot be honored, we do our best to avoid as many programming conflicts as possible.
